WELCOME TO Beautiful RIVERSIDE

Riverside, the County Seat and largest City in Riverside County is in the heart of scenic Southern California. Much of Riverside's beauty lies in thousands of acres of orange groves and in its 130,000 street trees.

Founded in 1870 and incorporated in 1883, present population is 146,000 with 302,000 in the trade area and an estimated 450,000 in the County. The City covers 72 square miles, an area larger than Manhattan Island. It has a rich agricultural background, and the "Parent" Naval Orange tree, from which all the navel oranges in California's multi-million dollar citrus industry descended, still flourishes in a park in the center of the city (State historical monument #20).

Riverside is a major education center. Included within the city are University of California at Riverside (UCR), California Baptist College, La Sierra Campus of Loma Linda University, Riverside City College, California School for Deaf and Sherman Indian High School. World famous Riverside International Raceway and March Air Force Base (SAC), Headquarters, Fifteenth Air Force, are located at the Southeast City limits.

Mt. Rubidoux, site of the first outdoor interdenominational Easter Sunrise service, towers above the downtown area and dominates the skyline. Adventurous visitors can reach the cross at the summit via the winding one way road starting at the West end of 9th St. The view is breathtaking.

In the heart of downtown is the Mission Inn Garden Hotel (State Historical Monument #761) renowned for its Spanish Mission architecture and charm which reflects the Riverside way of life. Daily tours are conducted through the Inn to view the unique construction and the art treasures. Civic and commercial buildings and the beautifully landscaped Mall in downtown have followed the early California theme, and coupled with the street tree planting program, have created an unusually attractive atmosphere for shoppers. There are thirteen shopping areas in the city ranging from neighborhood centers to the Riverside Plaza Mall with double deck parking and the new Tyler Mall. The 55 acre Auto Center including seven major auto agencies plus a service and commercial area has drawn worldwide attention.

A scenic drive around the City should include the above plus the beautiful residential areas at the foot of Mt. Rubidoux, those surrounding Victoria Country Club, and along Victoria Avenue among the orange groves.

Riverside boasts of 23 parks, beautiful Lake Evans, seven golf courses within 10 minutes of downtown, seven public pools, community playhouse, art center, museum and Senior Citizens center. Cultural groups include the Art Association, Ballet, Symphony, Opera, Children's Theatre, Community Players, Flower show, organized hobby groups, and nearby Jurupa Cultural Center.

CLIMATE

The climate in Riverside is warm and dry with 225 to 250 clear days a year. Mean average temperature in summer months is around 75° with a max. av. high of 94.1° in July, the hottest month. Fortunately the humidity in July keeps below the 40% mark on the average, and visitors from the damper coastal areas flock to Riverside to enjoy the warm dry air. Rainfall average is 11.04 inches per year, mostly in Dec., Jan., Feb.

NEWSPAPERS, RADIO AND TV

The Daily Enterprise (County Morning Paper) and the Press (City Evening Paper) are published by the Press-Enterprise, and offer a full AP, UP, and other press service coverage of local and world events. The weekly Arlington Times reports news of that area. Several AM and FM radio stations give excellent local news reporting and a variety of programming (inc. FM Multiplex), and all Los Angeles radio and TV stations come in strong. Most hotel/motel rooms have TV.

FOOD AND FUN

Part of the fun of traveling and conventioning is visiting new restaurants and sampling unusual foods. Riverside offers a wide selection from the exotic foods of the orient and polynesia right down to good old home cookin' from all over the USA. Everything from southern fried to New England boiled, and a wide selection of steaks and sea food.

Our Spanish tradition is well represented by several restaurants which truly excel in South of the Border specialties and atmosphere, and from the other side of the world we can offer the finest in continental cuisine.

Several excellent night clubs offer dinner dancing and top entertainment.

With seating for 1,800 in the Municipal Auditorium, and 1,200 deluxe hotel/motel units plus a score of fine restaurants nearby, Riverside can host major conventions.

The beautiful Auditorium, in a garden setting with shaded patios and fountains, has a 10,500 sq. ft. exhibit-banquet hall on the lower level, and a flat main floor which is set with comfortable upholstered chairs which can be removed for dances or special events. The 3,800 sq. ft. stage offers special lighting, sound, projection facilities and dressing rooms. Deaver Hall on the upper floor seats 100.

More than 25,000 convention delegates visited Riverside last year, and sports and cultural events drew an additional half million. Riverside International Raceway alone brought more than 250,000 racing fans to Riverside.

Burned out

Two Rubidoux firemen fight a blaze in a storage trailer at the home of Henry Brooks on Water Street. Firemen said the owner told them the fire caused about $1,600 damage. It also killed a dog, chained to the trailer. The fire started about 2:40 p.m. Friday. A fire official said the cause was still under investigation.

City counsel to seek resignation of redevelopment agency member

Sept. 21, 1974, Bluemel cancelled his previous voter registration and requested that his residential, voting and mailing address be listed as Mar-ber Drive, Rancho Mirage, instead of Pinkerton Place, Riverside.

Bluemel confirmed Friday night that he had moved his registration and said he did not know about the law. He said he and his wife maintain an apartment in the Mission Inn and had not yet decided where to make their permanent home.

He said he would not contest any request that he resign and added that, although interested in Riverside's civic problems, the question of continuing on the redevelopment board "doesn't make that much difference to me."

Artist to give sand painting demonstration

Artist David Villasenor will give another demonstration of Indian sand painting at a Riverside Museum open house Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m.

The open house will mark the close of an exhibit of Villasenor's sand paintings, which have been displayed since mid-December. Villasenor previously gave a demonstration of his sand painting technique at

Animal keeping laws irk residents in La Sierra

By RON MORRIS

Faced with growing discontent from La Sierra residents over enforcement of certain zoning rules, and neighborhood petitions reportedly containing more than 1,000 signatures, Riverside planning commissioners are trying again to come to grips with the problem of livestock keeping.

The problem has been developing ever since La Sierra annexed to Riverside in 1964. It is one of the city's most rural districts and many residents, including youngsters in FFA and 4-H programs, keep farm animals.

But some of the animal keeping is contrary to the city's zoning rules, according to zoning enforcement officials. They cite situations where there are too many animals for the size of the property, or where animals are penned too close to a neighbor's house, or where the property is not big enough — the minimum is one acre — to qualify for farm-type animals.

Last fall these officials' enforcement activities prompted citizens' complaints to the City Council. The council instructed the city Planning Department to review existing rules and asked the Planning Commission to hold a public hearing to determine if the rules should be changed.

The planning staff subsequently did a study which compared Riverside's livestock rules with those of other nearby jurisdictions and listed a number of possible new approaches the city could take.

The staff report, however, concluded by recommending that the rules not be changed and that the city step up its enforcement activities.

Basically the rules allow two farm-type animals such as horses, cows, sheep and goats on properties of one acre or more in the residential agricultural and single-family residential zones. An extra animal is allowed for each additional half-acre.

The commission held its public hearing Nov. 21 and voted 5-2 to accept the recommendation which then was sent to the council. The council has not yet set the matter for public hearing.

Wednesday several La Sierra residents led by Jim Scholl and Don Garretson complained to the commission that there has been no adequate public notice of the November meeting and that none of the concerned people in La Sierra had known about it. (The hearing, planning officials confirmed, was scarcely attended by the public.)

Bob Meese of the planning staff said a legal advertisement was published in the newspaper but such notices are often overlooked. It would have been impossible, he said, to send everyone in the city a notice.

Scholl said a committee in La Sierra
